

LONDON ZOO

a ZSL conservation zoo

The Roarsome Animals in London

This checklist has been designed to help you make the most of your visit to the Zoo.

Try to find the following mystery images on each of our routes. Tick each box when you have found them. Good luck!

Co-designed with the students of Roots and Shoots and Lambeth Colleges who participated in Leonard Cheshire's 'Can Do' programme!

Pink Zone

Into Africa - Quiet

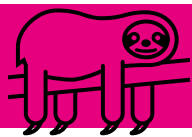

Africa is home to many dangerous, beautiful and roarsome animals. Here we can come eye to eye with some of Africa's most iconic beasts.

☐ Found

☐ Found

Pink Zone

The Rainforest - Quiet

Enter London's only living rainforest where you can come face-to-face with a wide number of amazing rainforest species including monkeys, sloths, and mole rats!

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found

Orange Zone

Butterfly Enclosure - Busy

Throughout this massive caterpillar, you may encounter the beautiful Postman Butterfly, Zebra Longwing, or even the largest moth ever the Atlas moth!

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found

Orange Zone

Three Island Pond - Quiet

This peaceful enclosure is used for our flocks of flamingos and pelicans, but you may spot an occasional friendly duck or buzzing bee!

☐ Found

☐ Found

Orange Zone

Blackburn Pavilion - Quiet

An important part of ZSL London Zoo's history, Blackburn Pavilion provides a tranquil home for more than 50 different species of birds.

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found

Orange Zone

Animal Adventure - Busy

Here you can meet animals ranging from goats; to coati's and meerkats – and find out more about these creatures' secret and often surprising lives in the wild.

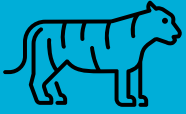

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found

Blue Zone

Tiger Territory - Busy

Sumatran tigers are the rarest and smallest sub-species of tiger in the world and are critically endangered. Tigers are both good swimmers and climbers with powerful legs and large claws.

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found

Blue Zone

The Outback - Quiet

Here in the outback lies the Mappin terraces, where events have been held since 1913. Here is also where Christopher Robin first met the bear Winnie that would inspire the Winnie the Pooh books.

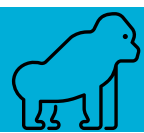

☐ Found

☐ Found

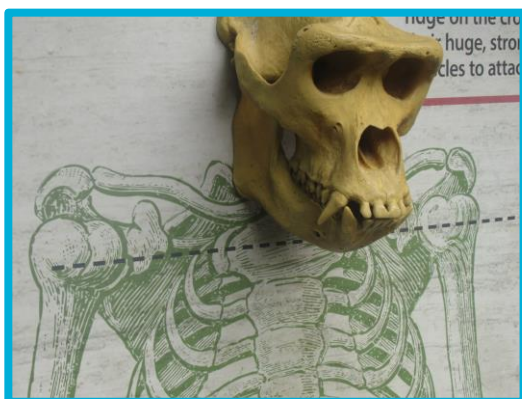

☐ Found

Blue Zone

Gorilla Kingdom - Busy

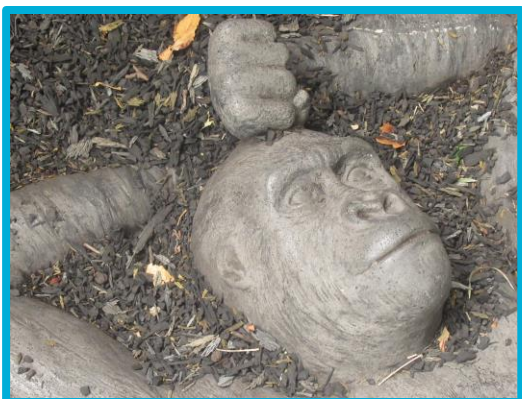

These beautiful gorillas live in small groups and are very protective of those in their circle; It can even take up to 2-3 months for them to recognise and accept a new zookeeper!

☐ Found

☐ Found

☐ Found